BIOGRAPHICAL/HISTORICAL NOTE

A.L. (Austin LeRoy – aka: Roy) Cramer was born to Isaiah Thomas and Amanda Josephine Bengston Cramer on March 1, 1892, in Willmar, Minnesota. Cramer graduated from Willmar High School in 1910 and attended Macalester College in St. Paul, Minnesota, from 1910 to 1912. He married Clara Foss from Grafton, North Dakota, on December 25, 1916, in Shelby, Montana.

The Cramers moved to the Lower Rio Grande Valley in 1918 where Cramer worked for the J.C. Engleman Company, also known as the Engleman Products Company and Engleman Gardens. John Clodo Engleman, Jr. established the company in 1926 when he dedicated 11,000 acres to the citrus industry. Cramer became the manager of the company in 1927 and worked in that capacity until 1968.

Water for the agriculture industry was a problem in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Cramer worked to help resolve it by serving as president of the Hidalgo County Water Improvement District 6 in Elsa, Texas; president of the Valley Water Conservation Association; and chairman of the Rio Grande Valley Water Committee. In 1957 Governor Price Daniel appointed Cramer to the Water Planning Committee for Texas. Cramer represented Texas, Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico, Utah, and Wyoming when he worked on the treaty between the United States and Mexico. Cramer appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee as the head of the Valley delegation in support of the treaty. Ratification of the treaty by the United States in 1945 led to the construction of Falcon Dam, Amistad Dam and Anzalduas Dam on the Rio Grande.

Engleman Gardens employed thousands of Mexican workers during Cramer’s tenure as manager. As a result Cramer worked with Ciudad Reynosa authorities to establish guidelines for Mexican workers in South Texas. The guidelines provided legal protection for the workers by stipulating number of hours, salary, and length of work contracts.

Other professional organizations to which Cramer belonged were the South Texas Canners Association (president 1943-1944) and the Texas Canners Association (president in 1945).

Cramer’s other civic duties included serving as president and member of the board of trustees of the Edinburg Consolidated School District; as a member (1944-1945) of the board of directors of the College of Arts and Industries in Kingsville, Texas; and as president (1952-1957) of the board of regents for the four-year Pan American Regional College. In addition he was a member of the Edinburg Rotary Club for 28 years; an advocate for the Knapp Memorial Methodist Hospital in Weslaco, Texas; and a member of the board of stewards of the First Methodist Church of Edinburg.

The Cramers had four daughters: Carolyn Hope who married Robert H. Kern of McAllen, Texas; Phyllis Elaine who married George Smith Wright of Albuquerque, New Mexico; Janet who married H. Sam Jones of McAllen, Texas; and Alice Lee who married Francis E. Knapp of Brownsville, Texas. A.L. Cramer died in Elsa, Texas, on February 17, 1969.

SERIES DESCRIPTIONS

I. Correspondence

The correspondence series includes letters, reports, telegrams, news clippings, and postcards. The major subjects addressed by the documents are water conservation, commission and association business, water related state and federal legislation, irrigation, conference reports, Mexican agricultural workers, Engleman Products Company business, dam construction, tidewater barriers, development of Mexico just south of the Rio Grande, the water treaty with Mexico, frost damage to crops, ledger for Donna (Texas) Irrigation District, citrus industry concerns, and fundraising for Valley Medical Center. Personal correspondence addressed the value of a tract of land in Hidalgo County, Texas.

II. Speeches

The speeches contained in this series include a radio address on water conservation by Cramer and a report on rights on impounded water by John D. McCall.

III. Rotary Club of Edinburg, Texas

This series contains programs for meetings, correspondence, a constitution template, and bulletins.

IV. Academic institutions

The academic institutions with which Cramer was involved include Edinburg Consolidated Independent School District, Edinburg Regional College (later known as Pan American College and now called The University of Texas Pan American), and Texas A&M. The documents found in the series include policies, correspondence, board meeting agendas, financial reports, copies of state legislation, campus publications, Pan American College’s “Working Together” project, Pan American College board of regents documents, education proposals, and Pan American Catalog (1952-1953) in Spanish.

V. Citrus operations

The citrus operations series contains correspondence, citrus related organization documents, conference programs and agendas, letters of recommendation, handwritten notes, meeting notices, Florida citrus fruit grades, transportation fee rate sheet, financial reports, Mexican fruitfly quarantine documents, news clips, and a statistical bulletin from Florida. The folder containing Safeway Stores Incorporated documents includes 1944 and 1947 policies, bulletins, news clips, an employees’ monthly magazine, and a 1941 newspaper advertisement describing the new innovation of buying produce by the pound at retail stores. Items of note in the series are a copy of the statement of Charles G. Woodbury to the U.S. Senate Committee on Appropriations and a copy of the Office of Price Administration Revised Price Regulation 13.

VI. Bracero, migration and labor

Mexican agricultural workers are the focus of this series. Materials found here include court decisions, a Mexican prepared contract template, commission and committee reports, correspondence, information about meetings for agricultural employers, handwritten notes, Congressional bills, meeting reports, application forms to import agricultural workers from Mexico, membership lists of committees, meeting minutes, work contracts, and steps for employers wishing to hire Mexican agricultural workers. Items of interest include a list of Mexicans under contract; a list of Mexican labor recruiters; and correspondence pertaining to workers who died, became ill, or left employment. Topics covered in the materials are wages, agricultural labor recruitment, wetback labor, Mexican immigration quotas, contracts, and the Mexican Agriculture Labor Program.

VII. Projects

The topics covered in this series include the minerals sulphur and tin, irrigation and canals, and work projects. The documents contained here are reports, analyses of Congressional hearings, memorandums, maps, a project proposal and application, and a project cost estimate work sheet.

VIII. Water control

This series pertains to water studies as well as water legislation on international, national, and state levels. Items documenting the actions of water related organizations are also found here. Other subjects covered by these materials include water storage, dams, water problems, water reclamation, water conservation, Indian Pueblo water rights, Texas legislative activities, and irrigation. Types of materials include maps and charts, correspondence, financial reports, minutes and meeting notices, releases and distribution compacts, an appointment book, reports, resolutions, drafts of legislative bills, acts of Congress including the water treaty with Mexico, statements to the public by Judge Oscar C. Dancy, and newspaper clippings. The March 16, 1944, issue of the Congressional Record is in this series.

IX. Climatological Data (1925-1948)

This series contains "Climatological Data" produced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau for 1925-1947 along with the Annual Summary for 1948.

X. Ephemera

The items in this series include a 1959 game bird guide, an unused temporary crossing card, a photocopy of the biography of John C. Engleman, Jr., a sale ad for a house on Monte Cristo Road, a photocopy of the plat for Las Mesteñas Ranch Lot 15, the Texas Legislative Service for May 18, 1960, a list of water districts for several Texas counties for 1949, and “Programs to Effectuate a Long-range Policy of Abundance” by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.
